Foreword

Page through this FORTRESS and live again the year now past. Follow its theme, "The Wartburg Drama." See how it depicts our college life, serious in tone, yet often suggesting comedy. Life is like that at Wartburg—sometimes light, even humorous. Yet, pervading its entirety is the drama of the serious business that is Christian life.

The curtain rises for "The Wartburg Drama of 1951." Enjoy again the role you enacted as your memory brings you once more before the footlights.

DEDICATION

To our staff adviser and friend, Miss Margaret Wolff, we proudly and affectionately dedicate this FORTRESS.

Miss Wolff's expert advice, her zeal, her unflagging patience and her cheerful kindness have played a vitally important part in the production of this yearbook. Her faith in the editor and his staff has been a constant source of encouragement.

Miss Wolff will not know that this year's FORTRESS is to be dedicated to her until after its publication. We sincerely hope that her surprise will be a pleasant one. May the memories of this past year inspire her to continue to play well her part in our college life.

"... This our life exempt from public haunt..."

Luther Hall

Perhaps the first building with which the incoming freshman became familiar, Luther Hall, will always remain the "educational" building on campus. Here, behind those wide windows, the novice received his first introduction into the history of the Merovingians, the subtleties of syntax or the secrets of the anatomy of frogs and grasshoppers.

It was here, too, in the library, that the frosh collected his first data for the semester term paper. Among the much-used volumes in the reading room he found the first stepping stones to his future career. And it was here, too, in the upstairs treasurer's office, that he managed finally to pay his bills.

"The weakest goes to the wall."

Knights Gymnasium

The Knights Gymnasium will long remain the pride and joy of Wartburg, even while other campus buildings go up. The largest gym in the lowa conference, it was the scene of many of Wartburg's most thrilling basketball games and wrestling matches.

Perhaps, during the winter, it was painful at times to walk over to gym class with the north wind blowing off the football practice field and drifting the sidewalks shut. But physical education was almost fun on the wide and brightly lighted playing floor.

It was here, too, that the newcomer sat inspired by some of the world's finest talent during the Artist Series presentations: Rise Stevens, Carl Sandburg, Minneapolis Symphony—names to be remembered.

"She is a woman, therefore may be wooed..."

Wartburg Hall

For the women, Wartburg Hall was "home" for the better part of the year. Perhaps it wasn't quite so cozy as the farm in North Dakota, or the apartment in the Illinois city, but it fulfilled its purpose. Many of the friendships made here may well last long beyond the college days.

Then, of course, there's the Den downstairs for those daily coffee hours, quick lunches and friendly sessions around the juke box. There, too, is the post office, strongest link with home, with its mail boxes that will never open when they are full.

"What should a man do but be merry?"

Grossmann Hall

Main men's dormitory, Grossmann Hall, became a residence de luxe after it was remodeled two years ago. Even though the freshman may not have lived on the ultra-modern third floor, he had a bright and cheerful room. "The Gauntlet," basement recreation room, is the showplace of the dorm, since it was built by the men themselves. So is the lounge, with its comfortable furniture and large-size mural of the Midwest on the south wall.

Grossmann, too, was the home of the champs —third floor took the football and basketball intramural crowns, and was a threat for softball. Grossmannites are a proud lot, and lucky the "greeny" who can become part of the clan.

"Goodnight, sweet prince."

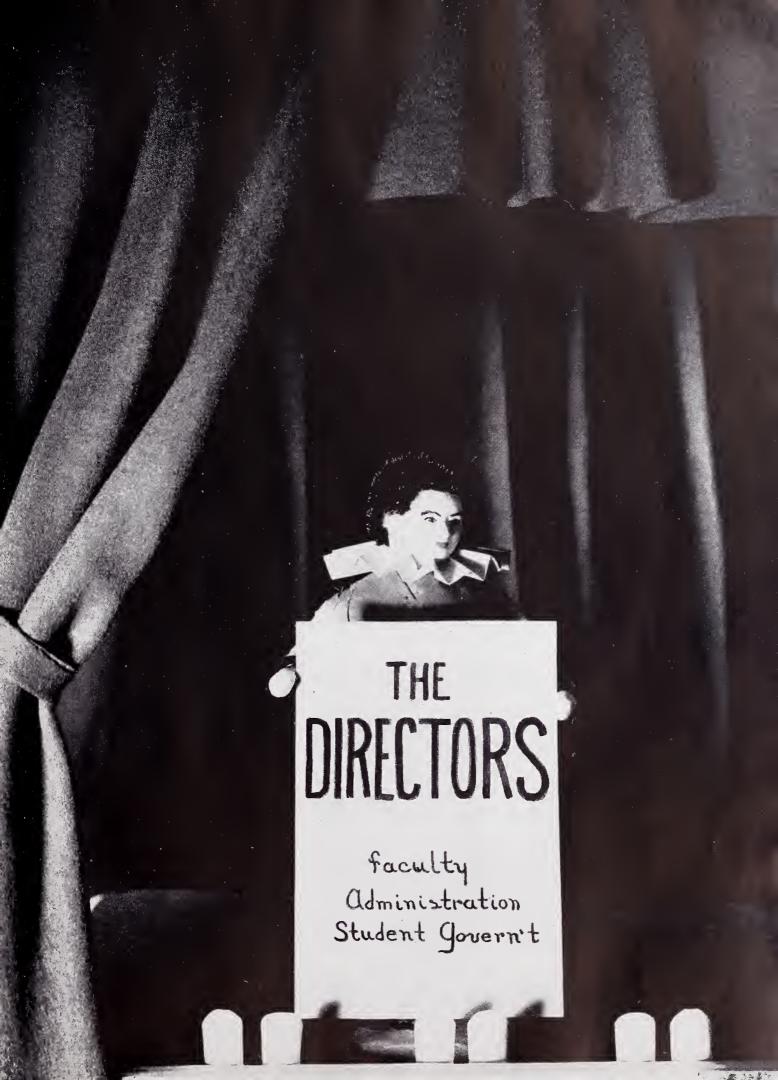

The College That We Love

So this is Wartburg—a college built on dreams to make those dreams come true, an institution dedicated to the purpose that men may serve their Lord, a campus and a family unforgettable for the spirit of brotherhood and earnest dedication.

Now that the freshman is about to become a sophomore, now that he is about to leave for home over the summer, he may stop on Bremer Avenue for one last look. He will see a college united in prayer and rising to the tasks before it, and he will feel a little twinge of longing deep inside, a yearning that tells him that he will be back, come fall, for whatever greater tasks the future holds.

"He lives in fame..."

President C. H. Becker

● The cheery greeting with which President C. H. Becker meets students, and his sympathy with them and their problems have made him a friend to everyone. Busied with office routine, with committee meetings and with grassroots activities throughout the Midwest, Dr. Becker nevertheless finds considerable time to converse privately with individual students. His untiring leadership has inspired both students and staff members to greater efforts in the service of the Christ to whom Wartburg is dedicated.

"Sweet mercy is nobility's true badge."

Faculty

"... To the earth some special good doth give."

Dr. G. J. Neumann, vice-president of the college and head of the division of languages and literature, has been a member of the Wartburg faculty for forty-one years.

• In the eyes of students the most outstanding event sponsored by the faculty was the faculty stunt show of January 18. This unusual enterprise was undertaken to help raise money for a new class bell system.

Another event was the faculty recognition dinner of last fall, at which faculty members were honored for length of service and increased rank. Dr. G. J. Neumann, vice-president of the college, was honored for forty years of service on the faculty. The Rev. Jacob Cornils and Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg rose to receive recognition for thirty and twenty-five years of service, respectively.

Additions to this year's faculty were Mr. Roy Glahn, voice instructor, and Mr. Warren Schmidt and Mrs. Flora Landis, piano instructors, music department; the Rev. R. E. Glaser, Christianity; Mr. George R. Bjorgan, history; Mr. Carl H. Eiben, biology; and Dr. C. E. Van Horn, mathematics. Miss Theresa Holt became dean of women, and the Rev. Walter G. Tillmanns returned from graduate work at Wisconsin University to rejoin the division of modern languages.

Student Government

• Student government this year took long strides under the leadership of President Norman Fintel and Vice-president Melvin Gleiter. On the intercollegiate level, Wartburg joined NSA, National Student Association. Several tough problems of Wartburg students were courageously tackled and finally solved by the student leaders.

Receptions, Tests, Registration

Plans for the coming school year were laid out before registration by the chief executives of campus organizations and Student Senators. Meeting in a leadership retreat on September 11, the group, following an address by Pres. C. H. Becker, adopted the year's activities calendar.

When the freshmen arrived, these student leaders welcomed them and showed them about campus.

• After a strenuous program of entrance tests and registration, the freshmen became guests of Pres. and Mrs. C. H. Becker at a reception. All of these activities occurred in the spacious Knights Gymnasium.

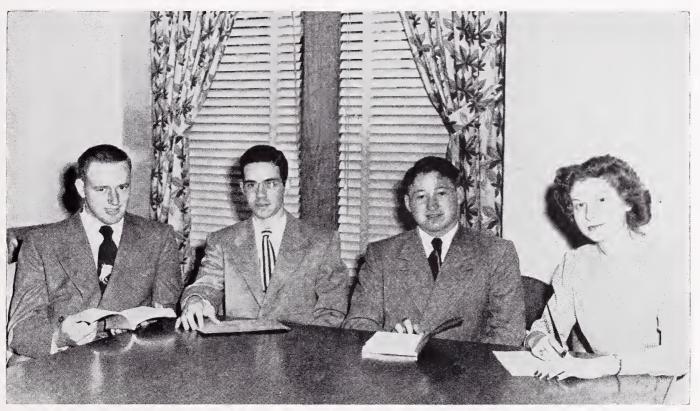

A special invitation to associate membership with St. Paul's Lutheran Church was also given to new students.

By the time upperclassmen had arrived and classes had begun, friendships had been formed, "Coke" dates were popular and bull sessions were in full swing.

Understudies

● Just imagine 213 green beanies—that's almost 150 feet of material! On September 15 each green-capped freshman began a year packed with new experiences. Getting settled in the dorm, struggling through entrance tests, filling out endless forms and tracking down people and places were the first challenges to be met. Initiation was climaxed by "hellth" week. The fall Outfly and Kangaroo Kort were not far behind.

Early in the fall the freshman class made a permanent contribution to the Wartburg campus by cooperating with the sophomores in an initiation project. Approximately seventy fellows, under sophomore supervision, constructed the diagonal walk at the southeast corner of Grossmann.

Freshmen soon became an integral part of the Wartburg family. They began active participation in all phases of campus extracurricular activity. The freshman skit, "Nosohotma Randy," received second prize in the Homecoming Kastle Kapers.

Guiding the class as officers the first semester were Myron Gruenwald, president; Theodore Fritschel, vice-president; Frances Wuebbens, secretary; and Edwin Wolfgram, treasurer. Student senators were Emmett Busch, Doris Mueller and Eric Biedermann.

Mid-semester election for freshman class officers, automatic under the student body constitution, installed Theodore Fritschel as president, Emmett Busch as vice-president, Regina Welsch as secretary, and Edwin Wolfgram as treasurer. Dean Zimmerman, Nadine Eske and Eric Biedermann represented the freshman class on the Student Senate. Mr. David LeSourd and Mr. H. C. Engelbrecht advised the class throughout the year.

"Wisely, and slow...

... They stumble that run fast."

"For sufferance is...

... The badge of all our tribe."

"And twenty more such names...

... And men as these."

"O Vile, intolerable, not to be endured!"

• As in many other colleges and universities, freshman initiation was characterized by the green beanie. Paddles were for the most part eliminated by the humane sophomores, but the disciplinary command of "button" was heard rather frequently. "Graceful" freshmen were only too happy to oblige.

The traditional Kangaroo Kort, which convened Friday, October 6, climaxed the initiation period. Over fifty freshmen heard the accusations of Prosecutor Herb Hildebrandt, and the sentences of Judge Bob Lynne.

Most memorably costumed pair on the Kangaroo Kort jury were Leonard Rudolf and Virginia Wishek, "Ma and Pa Kettle."

When lusty voices shout "Outfly" at five o'clock in the morning, the sleepy student can react in one of two ways. He can either get up and join the early breakfast, the snake dance and all the other festivities, or he can stubbornly refuse to be budged from his bed, and gain deep satisfaction from knowing that he has slept late in spite of it all.

No matter what he does, he feels high elation from the fact that he is able to take one whole day off from his books and classes.

Initiation And Outfly

Top—Sophomores proved to freshmen that initiation could also take its course along "constructive channels" by supervising the freshmen in laying a sidewalk around Grossmann Hall. Sophomore "straw boss" is Herman Diers. Left to right — Lyle Quandt, Leon Webrand, Diers, Bernard Schuster.

Bottom—"Take that," says Paul Darnauer as he serves Emily Aaberg freshman style on Outfly morning.

Upper left—Marie Schiffler and Erwin Streng enact a bit of "Romeo and Juliet" for the iron-handed upperclassmen. Outfly was a time of budding romances. Last time we looked, this one was still budding.

Upper right—It literally rained "buckets" on Outfly morning. Freshmen (front to back) Junior May, Mary Warnke and Jerry Ristau are standing before Old Main, from the

"Is this a holiday?"

After a forenoon of fun and frolic, the whole college, faculty and staff included, retreat to convenient picnic grounds along the Cedar River and enjoy a picnic dinner. The rest of the day and evening is filled with mail call, games, a campfire and a free movie.

Bit Players

■ Eager to wreak revenge on the new freshman class, the sophomores began the 1950-51 school year with a series of initiation capers the freshmen are not likely to forget. Some unusual requirements concerning dress, dating and general behavior, aimed to help the newcomers get the feel of campus life, were set up by the official welcoming committee.

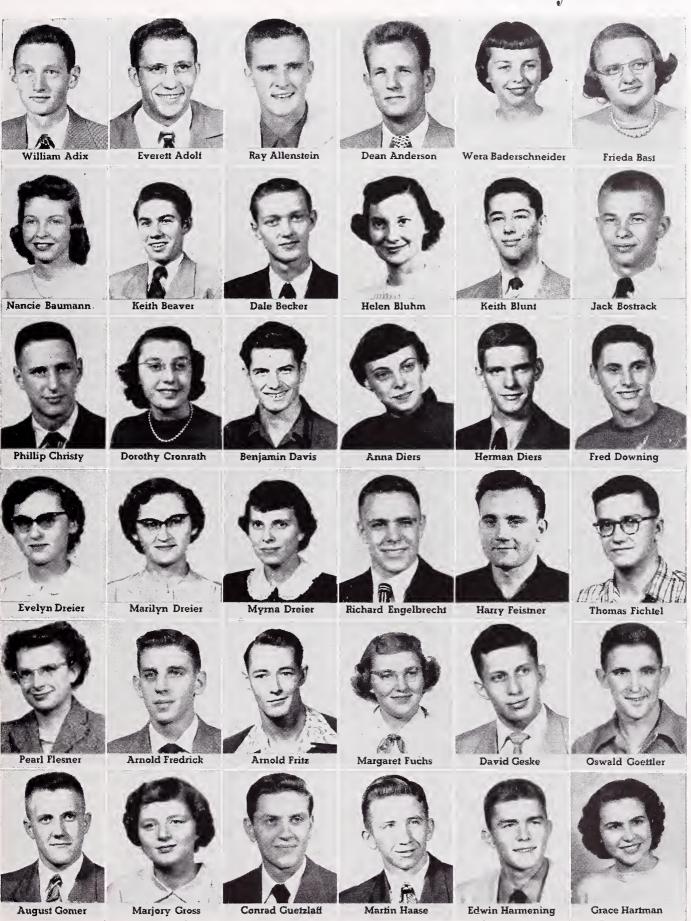

A concrete example of constructive initiation was given when the two classes cooperated in a project of laying a much-needed sidewalk on the southeast lawn of Grossmann Hall. Guided by the example and supervision of the sophomores, the new students showed a fine willingness to work for campus improvement.

Upholding an established reputation for versatility, class members continued their prideworthy participation in dramatics, journalism, music and other campus activities. In addition to the creditable work done by sophomore men on athletic teams, the class proudly claimed two "W" Club sports queens, Betty von Fischer, who reigned over the fall contests, and Bonnie Balke, Winter Sports Queen.

An able and conscientious leader was found in Victor Wenger as class president. His fellow officers were Everett Wuebbens, vice-president, Mary Alexander, secretary, and Bernice Hilmer, treasurer. Advisers were the Rev. Walter Tillmanns and Mr. Fred Weber. Grace Hartman, Katherine Mueller and Gilbert Nass wore the sophomore togas in the Student Senate.

... She is not yet so old...

... Happier than this...

...She can learn."

Romance Gets Boost Dogpatch Style

"Button yo' suspenders an' start in t' runnin'!" That was the cry of Wartburg men when the Knighties decided to reverse things and wear the pants for a whole week end of Sadie Hawkins Day festivities, December 1-3. At the all-school party climaxing the Sadie Hawkins celebration are the best-dressed couples, Dogpatch style. Left to right—K. Mueller, Lemke, M. Boebel, Fintel, H. Diers, Wolken, G. Hartman, Swensen, Lehmann, von Fischer.

"W" Club Chooses Queens For Three Seasons

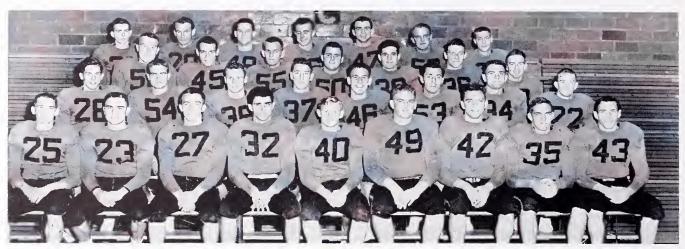

Ontinuing a tradition begun last year, the "W" Club, Wartburg athletic lettermen's organization, this year again chose three seasonal sports queens. Elected fall sports queen was Elizabeth von Fischer (center), sophomore, better known about campus as Betty.

During half-time at the Wartburg-Parsons game, which the Knights fittingly won 26-19, Betty was crowned queen by H. C. Engelbrecht, public relations director, to reign over the Wartburg fall sports season.

Although a music major, Betty is a sports enthusiast through and through. Attendants to the queen were (left) Fran Wuebbens and Nancie Baumann.

• The prediction that this would be Wartburg's year did not come true. The injury-riddled Knights had a lot of fight and spirit but not quite enough football team to overcome the opposition. In almost every game a few players were on the injury list, which fact could have made the difference between victory and defeat.

Not until the last game of the year did the Knights find the victory column. This victory, however, was one to be proud of. Parsons came to Wartburg on a cold November night with only one defeat on its record, while the Nelsonmen had eight losses and no wins.

Coach "Nellie" Nelson devises a new play for the do-ordie Parsons game.

A squad of only twenty-two Knights went out on the field that night with a determination that could not be denied, and this time the Knights came out on top with a 26-19 upset over the highly favored Parsons eleven.

The touchdowns were divided among Jim Unmacht, who smashed over for the first one; Fritz Steinhauer, who made another of his dazzling catches for the second; and Bob Koehler, who shook loose for a 64-yard sprint to pay dirt. Center Lester Becker clinched the victory with his 70-yard gallop to the double stripe after an intercepted pass. Credit should also be given to Ray Bareis for his shrewd job of quarterbacking. He had no previous experience in calling the signals for the varsity squad.

Another highlight of the year was the annual Upper Iowa game, in which the Knights played hard but lost 20-14. Upper Iowa's return of the opening kickoff netted the deciding seven points.

Although short on wins, the season provided its share of thrills long to be remembered, since a number were anybodies' games until the final gun.

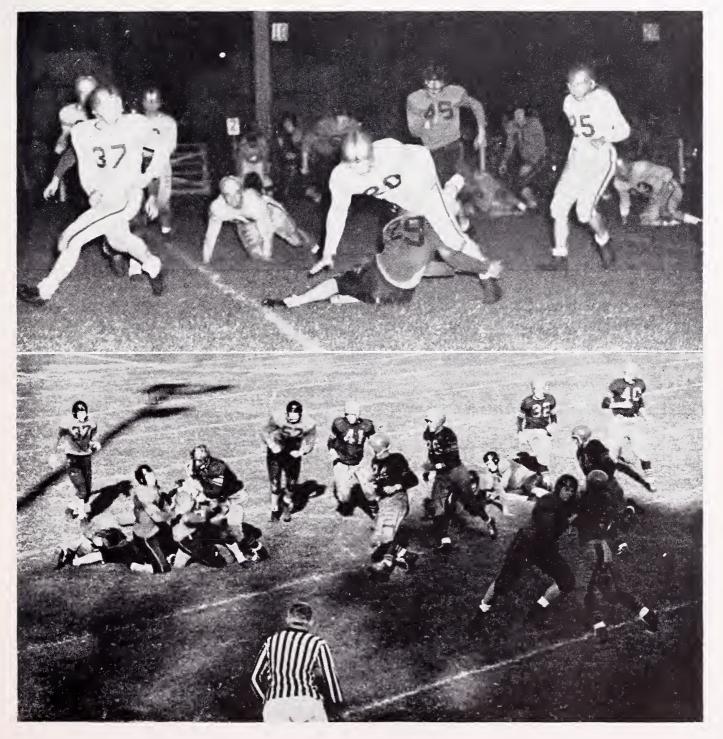

Steinhauer, Unmacht Lead

Individual statistics showed Fritz Steinhauer as Wartburg's top pass receiver with 27 catches for a total of 395 yards. Jim Unmacht led the ground attack, with an average of 4.5 yards per try and a total of 298 yards.

Top—Dean Price hits low as he stops Loomis of La Crosse Teachers after a considerable gain. The future Cigar Bowl team crushed the Knights 34.0.

Bottom—Knights are stopped with a one-yard gain in the Homecoming game with Buena Vista. Beavers won 25-13.

Christmas Concert Inspires Many

 This year's Christmas season at Wartburg was climaxed by a beautifully inspiring Christmas Concert. With the Rev. Dean Kilgust in charge as general chairman; the whole Wartburg music department, both faculty and students; Wartburg Players; the art department; and other helpful students and administrative officials effectively cooperated to make this the finest concert in Wartburg history.

Outstanding in its beauty and inspiration was the candlelight processional of both the Wartburg Choir and the Castle Singers. A Christmas greeting was given to the audience by Pres. C. H. Becker.

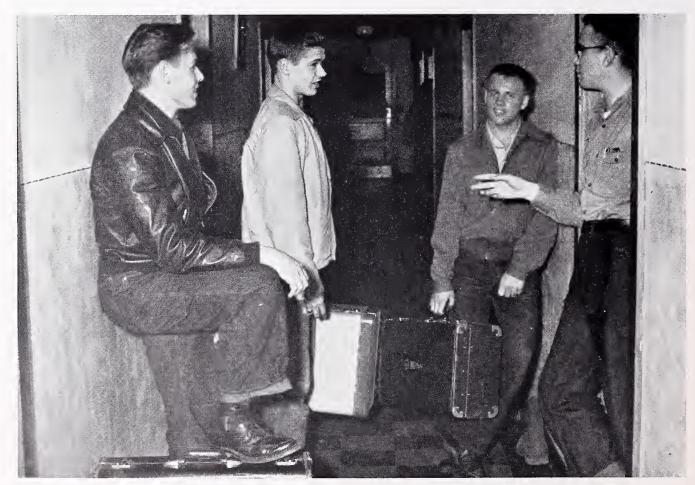

Annual Christmas Concert has been made another of the traditional events occurring during the Wartburg school year.

APG Continues Journalistic Achievement

• Although election to Wartburg's Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, is a recognition of individual journalistic achievement, members were not content to rest on their laurels.

WAF Talks Politics; Hans Sachs Has Fun

• "I wholly disapprove of what you say, but will defend to the death your right to say it." Voltaire's maxim might well be the motto of the World Affairs Forum, campus discussion group.

At informal meetings, one member presented the topic. Vigorous discussion followed. Frequently the group adjourned to the Den to continue the debate over cups of coffee.

In the fall Mr. David LeSourd led discussion on "The Brannan Plan."

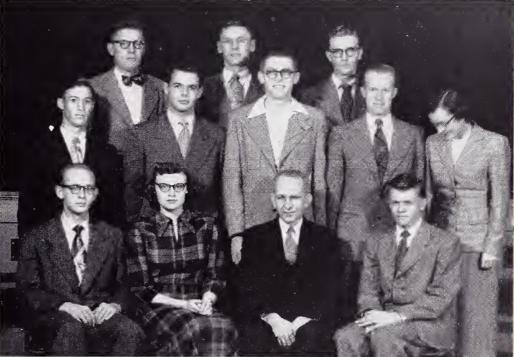

President was Enn Tatar. Fred Moberg served as vice-president, Dorothea Diers as secretary-treasurer. Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg was adviser.

• "Echte Deutsche Gemuetlichkeit"—that is the atmosphere the Hans Sachs Verein strives to create for its members. Here all worries of German grammar are flung to the winds as fun and relaxation, plus a certain dose of German culture, take the stage. The meetings generally conclude with two strictly American stand-bys, pop and doughnuts.

Two annual projects are German Christmas caroling and sponsorship of a foreign film.

"Beamten" were Herold Heupel, president; Marvin Goll, vice-president; and John Meister, secretary-treasurer. The Rev. Walter Tillmanns served as adviser.

Tours Southern and Western Iowa...

When the Scotch drum, two street drums, a tenor sax, a bass trombone and a double French horn were purchased, instrument storage became a problem. To finance the purchase of bell chimes for the organization, a benefit concert was given on November 19. Prior to the holidays the annual Christmas Concert was presented in conjunction with the college choirs. The concert tour through southern Iowa, the Spring Concert and the Senior Day Pop Concert climaxed the Wartburg College Band activities for 1950-51.

Serving as band officers were Philip Mueller, president; Arthur Meyer, vice-president; Marion Platte, secretary-treasurer; Kenneth Heaney, librarian; and Kenneth Pohlmann, property manager. Arthur Meyer, Marion Platte and James Fritschel shared the baton as pep band directors.

Members were interested in all phases of photography — movies, slides, color and black and white pictures. One Camera Club member made a movie of interesting events during the school year. A continuous project of club members during the year included window displays in the college bookstore and various downtown windows. A lighted display of colored slides in the bookstore window attracted particular notice.

Ushers Club is a service organization to provide uniform, courteous, distinctive ushering at outstanding events on the Wartburg campus.

In recent years the organization has rapidly enlarged its membership to enable it to seat efficiently the large crowds drawn by the outstanding talent brought to the campus.

In formal attire Ushers Club members graciously seated the audience for each of the Artist Series presentations. In addition, club members ushered at other feature events, such as the Homecoming banquet and the Christmas Concert.

The club held no regular get-togethers. Organizational meetings at the beginning of the year provided opportunities for orientation and practice.

Castle Singers Captivate Audiences

• Steadily increasing in popularity, the Castle Singers now have a firmly established reputation. Formerly called Chapel Choir, the Castle Singers presented concerts which were enthusiastically received in neighboring communities.

Two Sundays a month the choir took part in the student service at St. Paul's Church, and during the year they furnished inspirational music for religious convocations. Castle Singers combined their talents with those of the Wartburg Choir and the Concert Band in the Wartburg College Christmas Concert.

The Castle Singers are especially popular for their formal spring choral symphony. Under the direction of Dr. E. A. Hovdesven, the group this year presented a program which included art songs by the old masters, arrangements of American folk music, light opera numbers and rhythm adaptations.

Soloists during the year were Lois Stoltz, Paul Hanselmann, Carolyn Siefkes, Ronald Onnen and Henry Grishkowsky.

The Singers are headed by Miles Bruemmer, president; Harold Heupel, vice-president; Delores Ellermeier, secretary; Donald Zelle, treasurer; Marjory Gross, librarian; and Jack Schemmel, property chairman.

acterized Paul Schubert, associate editor. The flowing sports stories of Al Braunschweig, the cooperation of Evelyn Dreier as picture editor and the punctuality of Marilyn Dreier, directory editor, helped eliminate worry about deadlines. Rolf Olson was untiring in collecting senior data.

A sincere "Thank you" goes to Elmer Boie for his dependability and for his excellent photography. Melvin Gleiter, business manager, left nothing to be desired as he cleared the budget in spite of rising costs. Adviser Miss Margaret Wolff, never hesitating to criticize and always ready to commend, put up with amateur methods with a toleration that deserves the highest praise.

Then there were hilarious nights in the publications office as wit and work were blended to produce an annual, our annual. But there were also long, lonely nights, which gave the reward of accomplishment.

The feeling of satisfaction at seeing a year's work almost completed; the anxiety of seeing the book at press; and the exhilaration, the utter lightness that one feels when it is finally delivered to those for whom it was produced—these are all mine in memory. They are all neatly wrapped up in a little package labeled "The 1951 FORTRESS," and for them I am truly grateful.

Chi Rho Grows to 155, All-Time High...

• Membership in Chi Rho, campus organization for pre-theological students, reached an all-time high in 1951 with 155 members.

Devotional services conducted by Chi Rho members both on and off the campus have provided practical experience for the future pastors. Chi Rho members participate in the evening chapel program, Sunday evening devotions at the Lutheran Children's Home and services at the Bremer County Home.

Highlight of the campus Christmas festivities was the inspiring candlelight service presented by Chi Rho. The somber blue decorations set the mood most appropriately for the large audience which filled the Knights Gymnasium. Much of the credit for a fine program must go to George Utech, general chairman for the occasion.

The appearance of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Leo A. Jaeger before the group in December will be remembered as one of the extraordinary events of the year. Msgr. Jaeger's explanation of the functions and principles of the Roman Catholic hierarchical government was followed by an unusual opportunity for Chi Rho members to ask pointed questions of a Roman Catholic dignitary.

Dr. Henry Schuh, president of the American Lutheran Church, spoke to the Chi Rho audience on "Preparing for the Christian Ministry." At this time Dr. Schuh was made an honorary member of the society and was presented with the distinctive Chi Rho lapel emblem—a cross superimposed with the Greek letters "chi" and "rho."

Marking the beginning of a new tradition was the inspiring Fellowship Banquet introduced in March. Mr. Herbert Engelbrecht, Wartburg College public relations director, was the principal speaker. The efforts of Clare Biegler as culinary chief, and Miles Bruemmer in setting the fellowship atmosphere spelled success for this new event in the Chi Rho year.

Chi Rho officers during the current year were Ray Harms, president; Gordon Bahr, vice-president; Harold Pennington, secretary-treasurer; and Ronald Onnen and Gordon Braun, executive committee members at large. Advisers were the Rev. W. G. Tillmanns and Dr. A. E. Haefner.

MAC Stresses History, Meaning of Music

• Like music? Like to sit back and enjoy it? If so, MAC is the club for you.

Music Appreciation Club programs featured recorded music of various types, from jazz to classical. Given special attention were the stories behind the music as well as its interpretation. At one meeting the origin of Negro spirituals was traced back to jungle music. Before Artist Series presentations, the anticipated musical numbers were pre-viewed for increased enjoyment.

MAC sponsored monthly Campus Concerts. These were organized along similar lines, but were open to all students.

• A warm heart for missions is the only requirement for membership in the Mission Fellowship group. This active organization, begun in 1949, has found a definite place in campus life.

Typical projects for the year were distribution of devotional booklets to students, in cooperation with Chi Rho; presentation of Christmas pageants at the Butler and Bremer County Homes; and visitation in an area in Waterloo to prepare for a mission church.

Among speakers explaining various aspects of mission work during the year were Mr. Albert Meyer, Wartburg Seminary student; the Rev. H. A. Mueller; and Dr. H. W. Siefkes.

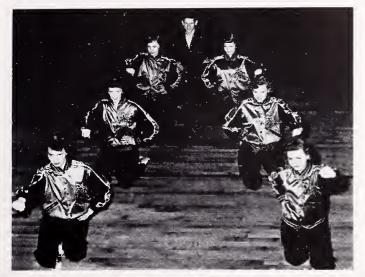

Officers were Ronald Onnen, president; Ralph Timmsen, vice-president; Pearl Flesner, secretary; and Rolf Olson, treasurer.

Pep Club Wins With Cheerleaders, Yells, Pep Rallies

• "The spirit of our student body at basketball games," said Coach Axel Bundgaard at a pep rally this year, "is better than anything else we've seen in the Conference."

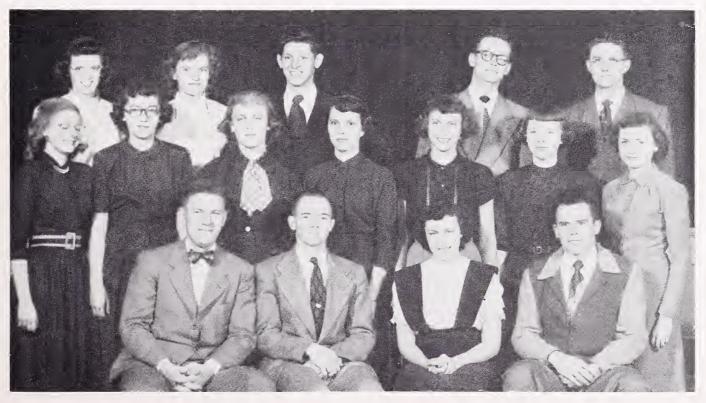

A good share of the credit for the enthusiasm of the Wartburg crowd at athletic events goes to Pep Club, under the leadership of Ervin Dohmeier, president.

With cheerleaders whipping up steam and Pep

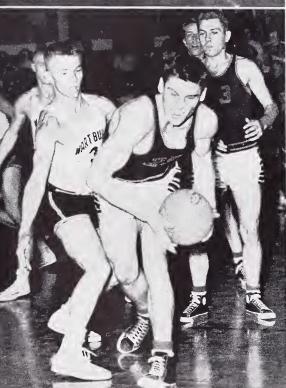

Club members inventing new yells, this group formed an effective team. In addition to organizing pep meetings, the club accompanied the team to the Upper Iowa football game and to the basketball game at Luther College.

Assisting Dohmeier were Dick Phillips, vicepresident, Lorraine Chester, secretary, and Eugene Baisden, treasurer. Miss Adeline Langrock advised the group and drilled the cheerleaders.

Cagers Tie for Third...

• An aggressive, fast-breaking Wartburg five came through this year with the best season Knight fans have ever witnessed. The Knights had an over-all record of thirteen wins and nine losses, and finished third in the tough Northern Division of the Iowa Conference.

Good ballhandling and dribbling by Art Miller, an excellent floor general, the uncanny accuracy of Bob Campbell and Jack Bostrack on long shots and the rebounding of Paul Olson and Fred Steinhauer rounded out a starting quintet which will be long remembered by fans as one of the best basketball teams in Wartburg history. Other members of the team who saw considerable action were Bill Adix, Dick Engelbrecht, Ed Kittleson, John Kurtt, Bob Lynne, Dick Rowray and Harold Steinhauer.

In the first three games the Knights displayed mid-season form by consecutively defeating Doane, St. Olaf and Nebraska Wesleyan. A loss to Winona and wins over Platteville and Eau Claire gave the Knights a 5-1 pre-Christmas record. Students went home for Christmas raving about the team.

During Christmas vacation the Wartburg squad dropped two games in the Lutheran Invitational Tournament, by a total margin of three points, to Augsburg of Minneapolis and Augustana of Rock Island, Illinois.

The Knights' first game in 1951 ended in a 55-50 loss to Westmar, but the next two saw the Knights defeating Dubuque U. 75-69 and Upper Iowa 59-58. In the last seven games

... For Best Season Ever

Wartburg tasted defeat only once, and that at the hands of the Conference champs, the Loras Duhawks.

With Coach Ax Bundgaard sick in bed, the Knights went to Central and climaxed the season with an impressive 84-66 win, a tribute to Bundgaard, who led them to Wartburg's most successful basketball season.

Figures released from the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau named Art Miller third in the nation for average number of assists per game. Miller also led all scoring with 250 points, an average of 11.3 per game. Fritz Steinhauer was ranked eighth in rebounding. Jack Bostrack boasted a total of 214 points, with an amazing shooting percentage of .417. Other leaders in Knight scoring were Paul Olson with 220, Fritz Steinhauer with 171 and Bob Campbell with 160.

This year's "B" squad had a season's record of fourteen wins and six losses. Coach Earnie Oppermann's boys showed real progress during the season in acquiring cage know-how.

Wrestlers Take Fourth Straight Title

"Consistent" is the adjective that can be given to the Wartburg College Wrestling Squad. For the fourth consecutive year the Knights captured the Iowa conference crown.

Five of Wartburg's grapplers took championships. They were Wayne Clough, 123-lb.; Lyle

In the early part of the season the Knights lost "Champ" Wolfgram to the Navy. Without Howie, who had practically become Mr. Wrestler at Wartburg, the squad's chances of defending the crown looked rather hopeless, but at the opening of the second semester two boys, fresh out of high school, rejuvenated the group. They were Wayne Clough and "Abe" Bradfield, both from West Waterloo.

Another member of the squad, Otto Zwanziger, also deserves recognition for the successful season. Although not available for the conference meet, Otto had a record of 11 wins and only 2 losses, finishing his wrestling career by copping a first place in the state AAU wrestling tourney held at Wartburg on March 10.

Regulars on this year's squad were Fred Downing, who won 7, lost 2 and was leading the team in scoring when he was called into the Navy;

"Red" Wilharm, 5-3; Keith Beaver, 4-5; Everett Blobaum, 2-4; and Dale Brockmeyer, 1-1.

During his four years at Wartburg, Coach "Nellie" Nelson produced four successive conference wrestling championships.

Basketball intramurals, under the efficient direction of Vic Wenger, intramurals committee chairman, boasted plenty of activity this year. Thirteen teams were entered in the program and two leagues were organized, the National and the American.

The American League race wound up in a tie between a small, fast Grossmann Hall I squad and a taller, more experienced Grossmann Hall III team. In the play-off the third floor team took the American League championship.

The National League also saw a third floor team take the title, but with much less trouble.

The championship game between the two third floor teams drew quite a number of spectators, but was rather one-sided as the American League team showed its superiority, to take the intramural crown for the year with a score of 43-29.

"W" Club Boosts Sports

• Membership in "W" Club represents hours of practice and participation in Wartburg athletics, since only men who have earned a major letter in some sport are eligible. Members are characterized by letter sweaters marked with large orange and black "W's."

This year the "W" club held two initiations, strictly on the strenuous side, for the benefit of new members.

The club's activities included selling tickets and handing out programs at sports events. The newly established tradition of electing a sports queen for each season was continued by the "W" Club.

To promote public relations and to create greater interest in Wartburg athletics, club members chose one from among their ranks as "Athlete of the Week" for outstanding individual performance.

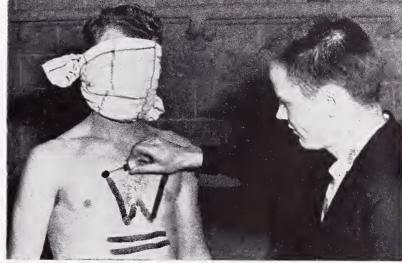

Heading the letter-winners were Eldon Reeg, president; Fritz Steinhauer, vice-president; Bob Campbell, secretary; and Ray Bareis, treasurer.

Phebes See Future Challenges

● Parish workers welded together their classroom work and their outside activities through membership in the Phebes. They gained practical experience as they visited the aged before the Christmas holidays, took part in learning use of the flannelgraph and other teaching aids, and held a model Luther League together with Chi Rho.

Co-editors Corinne Mueller and Frieda Bast welcomed material from future parish workers and those already serving in the field for the quarterly publication, the "Epistle," which was sent to all parish workers in the field.

On February 9 several of the members cooperated with representatives from other college groups in presenting a playlet for the World Day of Prayer Service given by the Waverly Branch of the United Council of Church Women, held this year at the Episcopalian Church. Theirs was the contribution of the Lutherans to the local observance of the day.

Assisting Anna Muench, president, with executive duties were Evelyn Reisner, vice-president; Mary Lou Mixdorf, secretary-treasurer; and Leona Mortensen, publicity director. Dr. John Hiltner advised the group.

The executive committee's planning and management provided leadership for one of the most active years Pi Sigma

• Although Pi Sigma does not rush pledges, the group does follow the lines of a sorority in planning its year's activities. Emphasizing poise, manners, adeptness and graciousness, the organization includes acquisition of the social graces as a vital part of its program.

The Big-Little Sister Breakfast early in the fall provided an opportunity for the upperclassmen and their freshman "little sisters" to become acquainted. Formal initiation introduced the freshmen to the organization, its functions and its purposes.

At the fall all-school Halloween party, the "Masquerade Brawl," Phil Houston this year contributed his version of a ghost story. Square dancing was the main event of the evening.

In February the group sponsored a "Courtesy Week." During this week members of Pi Sigma sought to remind and to inform students of proper etiquette, and a special convocation period was devoted to that end.

Phyllis Vollmer ably headed the executive committee, with Marli Michelke, vice-president; Myrna See, secretary; and Corinne Mueller, treasurer.

Scientists Entertain Iowa Academy

• "SCIENCE CLUB HOST FOR IOWA ACADEMY OF SCIENCE." Science Club made headlines this year when it acted as host for the Iowa Academy of Science on the Wartburg Campus in April.

Monthly meetings of the group were respectively under the supervision of the biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics departments. Among other presentations, members were privileged to hear Dr. Sheiman Hoslett of Luther College speak on "Linnaeus and Science Today," and a student panel discussing "Irradiation Sickness,"

"The Effects of the Atomic Bomb" and "Titanium."
Dr. C. E. Van Horn appeared before the club with the topic "Things to Be Discovered in Elementary Geometry."

Alpha Psi Admits Top Dramatic Talent

• Lambda Mu Cast is the Wartburg chapter of the national honorary dramatics fraternity, Alpha Psi Omega.

Only a select group of dramatics students, together with Mr. Raymond Wilderman and Miss Erna Moehl, hold membership in the Cast. Doris Herrboldt succeeded Bob Snyder as grand director when the latter left Wartburg for military service. Grace Hartman served as worthy business manager.

At Homecoming the Cast entertained former Lambda Mu members at a coffee hour in the Little Theater. During a November meeting the group began a round robin letter which will travel among all alumni members of the Cast.

Wartburg Players Present Five Shows

Playing the lead parts in "Down in the Valley," musical presented by the Players, are Joyce Gaughran and Don Rice.

• "On stage, everybody; bring down the lights; take it, Wartburg Players!"

The curtain opened on the Players' finest year. The group, composed of more than seventy interested would-be actors, made outstanding contributions to Wartburg in its 1950-51 productions.

"Elizabeth the Queen" opened the season in stirring fashion. Preceding the holidays Dickens' "Christmas Carol" was presented. "Noah," the story of the Bible character and his family during the Flood, was the Lenten production. A student-directed folk opera, "Down in the Valley," introduced a musical for variety. "The Gorilla" concluded the year's productions.

The directing hands of the officers, Ernest Maulwurf, president; Philip Mueller, vice-president; Lois Snyder, secretary; and Judy Vogel and Ann Peters, treasurers; together with the adviser, Mr. Raymond Wilderman, made this a successful Players' year at Wartburg.

Wartburg Choir Continues Nationwide Fame

• Wartburg Choir, under the direction of Dr. Edwin Liemohn, has acquired an enviable reputation during recent years and is now recognized as one of the outstanding choral groups in the United States.

Selection of the fifty-two members from among more than one hundred applicants each year is accomplished by competitive elimination.

This year the Wartburg Choir began its traditional spring tour on Easter Sunday, March 25. This tour took the organization into northwest Iowa, through North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota before returning to the campus on April 8.

Favorite selections included in the concerts were Bach's "The Spirit," "O Lamm Gottes," "Jeg Er Saa Glad" and "Lord Hosanna." Two movements, "Regeneration" and "Glorification," from "Celestial Spring" by Christiansen, were also highlights of the program.

Featured soloist this year was Lois Burmeister, soprano. Officers were "Jack" Volkmann, president; Rolland Lauer, vice-president; and Paula Schiffler, secretary-treasurer.

• FLASH! "Trumpet Captures All-American Under Grelling." Flashy headlines and interesting copy for the Trumpet, college weekly which appeared on Saturday afternoon, were appreciated by subscribers and staff members alike. But preceding the appearance of each issue was a story of rush, deadlines and hard work confronting Editor Claude Grelling and his staff.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the editor, with his managing editor, Bob Gremmels, copyread stories. Miss Margaret Wolff, adviser, spent Thursday evening at the publications office checking copy and throwing in helpful hints to boot. Friday night was proofreading and page make-up night.

While all this was going on, Ray DeWeerth and his crew of ad-hunters gamely sought to meet the weekly 100-inch advertising goal of the Trumpet. John Meister stretched dollars and pinched pennies as he ran Trumpet finances, and Fred Moberg and his team of sports writers whipped up Friday night sports stories in fine fashion for Saturday's paper.

But even that is not the whole story. After printing of the paper, it was Marvin Behrens, circulation manager, who was confronted with the task of getting it to all Wartburg students, to faculty members and to 250 alumni throughout the country.

The "brains" behind this year's Trumpet were (left) Bob Gremmels, managing editor, and Claude Grelling, editor-in-chief. Claude here edits a story while Bob writes "Disc Dope by Doc."

◆ Although the 1950 season was a great improvement over 1949, Coach Earnie Oppermann and his baseball team were still dissatisfied with the season's six wins and eight losses.

The Wartburg Knights got off to a poor start, losing their first four games before they overcame a fine Coe College team in a tight game by a score of 3 to 1. The next game Wartburg lost to Upper Iowa, but then went on a four-game winning streak over Coe, Loras, Upper Iowa and Luther.

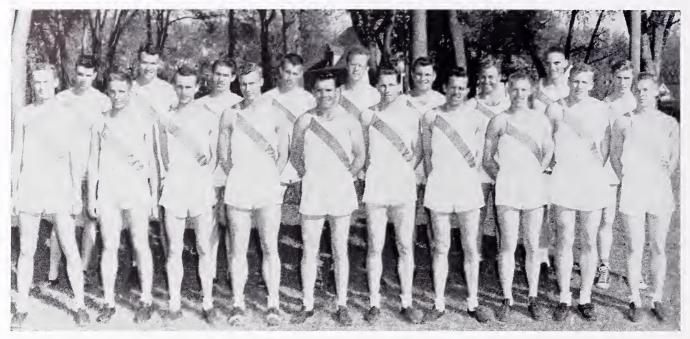

Wignes, Roese, Bruns and Spier led the hitting attack while Lechner, Olson and Kurtt did most of the pitching.

Campbell and Bostrack did most of the jumping for the Knights; Unmacht, Steinhauer and Becker flung the weights; DeYoung got the points in short dashes; Wiltshire, Reeg, Brown and Rodewald composed the mile relay team, which took its share of firsts; Tews, one of the biggest point getters, ran the mile; and the leather-lunged Platte took every two-mile event he entered.

• Knight netmen did not get into the victory column during their 1950 season. They gained a tie with Luther, but were defeated in five other matches against strong opponents. Chances for a successful 1951 season, however, look fairly bright, with last year's leading quartet composed of Herder-Siefkes and Rand-Kramer back and with letterman Bill Uhrich available after a season of ineligibility because of transfer.

As the FORTRESS goes to press, a freshman, Jerry Ristau, is proving that he has exceptional ability, and is the team's number one man. The team has already succeeded in defeating Coe.

• Wartburg's 1950 golf team, under the direction of H. C. Engelbrecht, also had a fine year. With Art Miller shooting near par on all courses, Wartburg won three while losing five. Miller took fifth in the conference.

This year's team will be coached by Art Miller, whose eligibility for college competition has run out. Though the Knights have scheduled games with several large Iowa colleges, prospects for another better-than average season are good. Games will be played with Coe College, Dubuque University, Iowa State Teachers College and Upper Iowa University.

Artist Series Brings Leading Talent...

 Memorable entertainment was again brought to Wartburg students and Iowa citizens in the Wartburg College Artist Series.

Rise Stevens, with her rendition of "Carmen," will be long remembered by the almost-capacity audience which heard her. Carl Sandburg, world's foremost living authority on Lincoln, appeared in "An Evening with Carl Sandburg."

Different from that to which Wartburg students are accustomed was the concert given by the Orfeo Hispanico. This group, which specializes in Spanish music, is a non-professional but world-famed chorus from the island of Majorca, just off the coast of Spain.

The Vronsky-Babin piano duo, Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin, touched the hearts of music lovers. Presenting two concerts, one informal and one formal, the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra upheld its excellent reputation. Alex Dreier, NBC news commentator, analyzed the current world situation at another program.

Chairman of the Artist Series Committee was Dr. A. W. Swensen. Other committee members were Dr. Edwin Liemohn, Dr. A. E. Haefner, Lois Snyder and Jim Fritschel, with Pres. C. H. Becker, ex-officio.

Biological Sciences

Forming the Division of Biological Sciences are the biology and physical education departments. The division purposes to teach the general facts about the plant and animal kingdoms, as well as to teach the structure, function and care of the human body to aid in maintaining good health. Heading the division is Dr. Elmer Hertel.

• The Division of Christianity and Philosophy deals with explanation of the mystic environment. Its purposes are to integrate all segments of the universe into a systematic pattern, to explain man's place in this universe and to inspire the student to lead a God-pleasing life. At its head is the Rev. Werner Fritschel.

Education and Psychology

● The Division of Education and Psychology aims to provide training for prospective teachers, to contribute to the preparation of other pre-professional students and to help the student understand human behavior. Holding the title of head of the division is Dr. Martin Wiederaenders.

Row 3-C. Siefkes, A. Diers.

Bottom—Harold Wiltshire gets some practical experience for his future profession by teaching a group of Waverly High School wrestlers.

Fine Arts

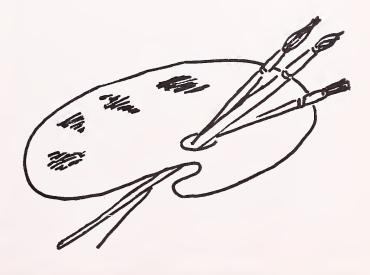

● The art, speech and dramatics and music departments make up the Division of Fine Arts. It is the purpose of this division to develop within students creative expression through speech, music or graphic and plastic art, and to interpret the expressions of others in these media. Head of the division is Dr. Edwin Liemohn.

Bottom—High fascination appears to be students' reaction to posters displayed by Miss Erna Moehl in her English teaching methods class.

Languages And Literature

● Included in the Division of Languages and Literature are the English, modern language, ancient languages and journalism departments. The division is under the leadership of Dr. G. J. Neumann. Its purpose is to bring together the means of communication, stressing languages as tools of communication, as well as to increase the student's appreciation of the beauty and value of literature.

Physical Sciences

● Embracing the chemistry, physics and mathematics departments is the Division of Physical Sciences. It has a duo-purpose; namely, to explain the physical universe and to point out man's methods of utilizing the universe to satisfy his needs. At the helm of this division is Dr. A. W. Swensen.

Top—Working on "unknowns" evidently poses some problems for these chemistry students, judging from the intent facial expressions.

Middle—Physics students are here working in Mr. A. A. Aardal's laboratory class of light and optics, photographing spark spectrum.

Social Sciences

• Contained in the Division of Social Sciences, which is headed by Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg, are economics and business administration, geography, history, home and family, social work and sociology. It emphasizes the way human beings live together, the areas of human problems and the ways in which people make a living. History gives a time perspective.

Student Assemblies Promote Fellowship

• College "family devotions" were conducted on a campus-wide scale through evening chapel services.

The chapel programs, under the direction of the chapel chairman, Paul Schubert, and the Chi Rho and student chapel committees, consisted of a balance of worship and meditation. Addresses by guest speakers, faculty members and students, movies, evening vespers and special musical features presented a varied program. The chapel chairman headed both of the assisting committees.

Upper left—Glenn Schultz distributes hymnals before daily chapel devotions. His service was the type that usually receives little recognition but deserves much.

Upper middle—Speaking for Wartburg's Spiritual Emphasis Week, the Rev. Walter Schmitt of Warren, Ohio, brings home the idea that "Christ is the Answer."

Upper right—The Rev. Robert Lee, convocation speaker from Minneapolis, Minn., discusses the field of missionary radio speaking.

• "The Church in the World," "Christian Freedom" and "Political Pressure Groups"—these topics were given special emphasis in the year's convocation programs.

Dr. Henry Schuh, president of the American Lutheran Church; Dr. Bernard Holm, president of Wartburg Seminary; and Professor T. M. Sogge of St. Olaf College were some of the notable speakers during the first half of the year.

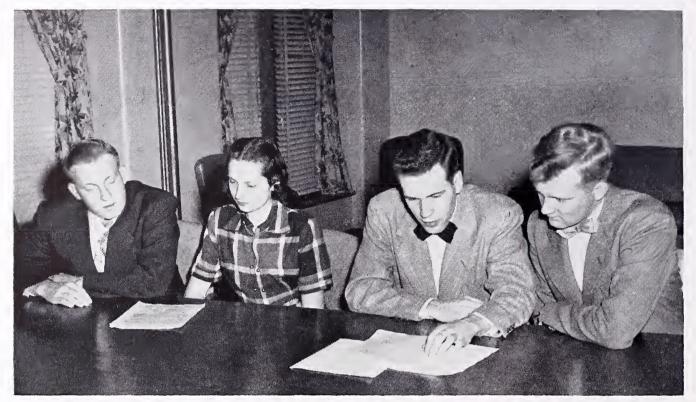

Convocation programs are under the direction of the religious activities committee, headed by the Rev. Werner Fritschel as chairman.

Lower left—In the characteristic chapel surroundings, Paul Schubert, Evening Chapel Committee chairman, reads the evening's Scripture lesson.

Lower right—Dr. Henry F. Schuh, newly elected ALC president, challenges the convocation audience to live fully by giving fully.

Howard Rand (second from right) reads his report on the sales of Christmas cards at a meeting of the junior class

Supporting Stars

• Juniors are "in-betweeners." They are influenced by the eager advice of the freshmen, the more bold and daring remarks of the sophomores and the learned comments of the seniors. All these suggestions have combined to mold a good crop of juniors.

Every member of the junior class belonged to some campus group. Leadership was not lacking, for juniors headed several organizations. The FORTRESS editor was a member of the class.

The entire class cooperated to present a Christmas party which featured carol singing, a Yuletide story by Dr. G. J. Neumann and a visit from "Santa" Gundacker.

To provide funds for the spring banquet presented in honor of the seniors, the juniors carried on the traditional sale of Christmas cards.

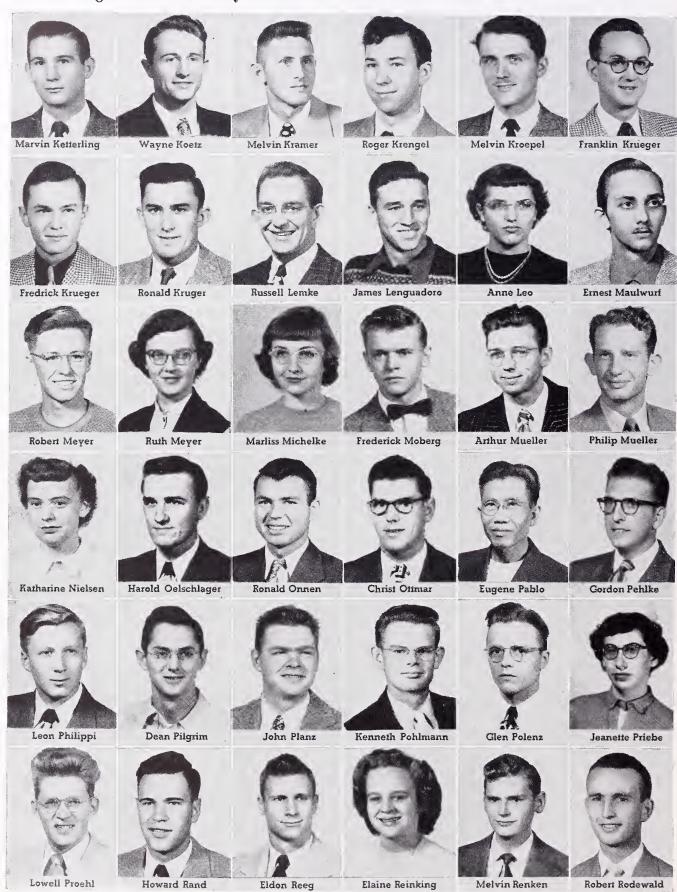

The in-betweeners played an active part in the Homecoming celebration. Queen Lucy Wenzler and three ladies of her court were members of the junior class.

The class was headed by Richard Swensen, president; Howard Rand, vice-president; Jean Winnie, secretary; and Melvin Blobaum, treasurer. Miss Erna Moehl and Dr. E. W. Hertel served as advisers.

Stars

• Commencement, a goal for four years, became a gateway for the class of 1951. Seniors completed their course at Wartburg College. A degree means courses mastered, credits totaled, majors and minors completed. It also represented experience in many fields, ideals and goals carefully formulated, rounded development. A degree became a key to the future.

The class of '51 was active in campus life throughout its career at Wartburg. Several members were outstanding in dramatics, while others demonstrated their talents in either the band or one of the two choirs. A number of seniors proved their ability in the field of journalism and some members of the class were active in student government. The class was well represented in all the sports at Wartburg.

Members of the senior class provided leadership in many activities. The editors of the Trumpet and Castle Tales came from the ranks of the class of '51. The student body president and vice-president were outstanding seniors, and the capable 1950 Homecoming chairman was a member of the senior class. Seniors headed a majority of campus organizations.

Most Representative Senior Man and Woman

• Melvin Gleiter is five feet eleven inches in height and weighs 180 pounds. "The chance to get into extracurricular activities," he says, "is one of the things I appreciate most in Wartburg."

The following are Melvin's own words: "It was with humble pride and appreciation that I learned of my selection as the most representative senior man. If, through striving always to do my best, I have been an asset to Wartburg College and have always been a true friend to all those I have grown to love and respect, then I shall be happy upon graduation day; but I shall also consider this as a challenge to live up to in the days ahead."

Doris Herrboldt is five feet two inches tall and weighs one hundred pounds. What she appreciates most in Wartburg is the friendliness of her fellow students and "the cooperation of everyone in getting one settled and happy."

Doris says: "Naturally, I am flattered to be chosen as the most representative senior girl. It makes me feel as though I have really accomplished something while at Wartburg. But when one has such grand people to live, work and go to classes with, it isn't hard to be happy and to make friends.

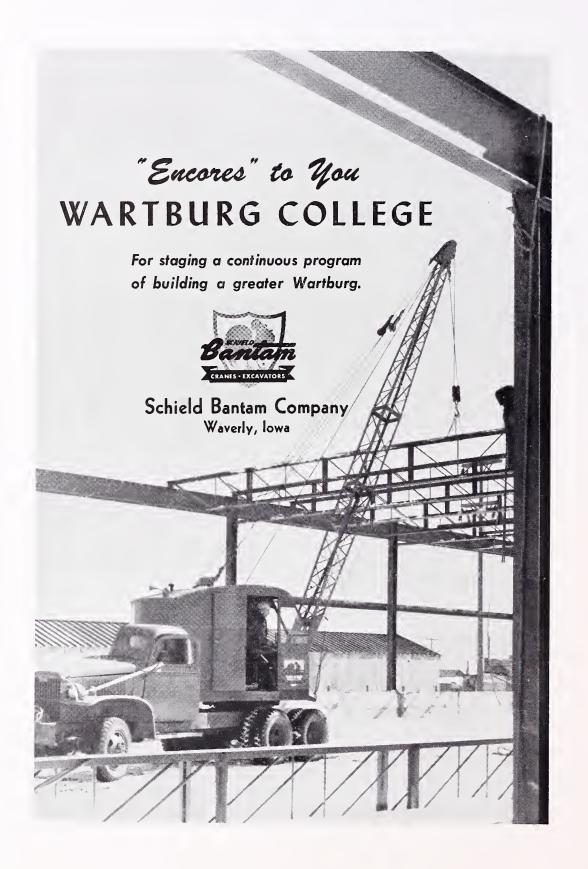

"When I'm out working, trying to earn a living, I'll remember all of the pleasant things about Wartburg—choir tours, parties and all of my friends. To Wartburg I say, 'Thank you for what you have given me.'"

To these two graduating seniors, elected by the student body on the basis of intelligence, poise, personality, character and activities, the FORTRESS extends its wishes for success and happiness in future life.

Tea costs you so little per serving that the difference between an ordinary tea and a Sexton guest tea is infinitesimal. But the difference in guest pleasure is equalled by few if any other items on your menu. Cured to our special requirements in the tea gardens of the Orient, blended and packed with special care, the fragrant bouquet of Sherman Blend Luxury Tea wins approval at first sip from the steaming cup . . . or cooling glass.

From Friend to Friend

There is a close kinship between Wartburg College and the Wartburg Press. Both are official institutions of the same parent body, the American Lutheran Church.

The students of Wartburg College are regarded as good friends of the Wartburg Press family. There are alumni of the school who have working headquarters at 57 E. Main Street.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that the Wartburg Press takes this opportunity to extend greetings and congratulations to the Wartburg College students who at the close of this school year will be passing important milestones in their careers.

Just as Wartburg College is making plans for growth and greater service in the future, so the Wartburg Press is planning the growth and progression which is an essential feature in any living organization.

We of the Wartburg Press propose that the friendships which have developed between the students of Wartburg College and ourselves shall continue through the years that lie ahead. We invite the students of today, who will be the professional people of tomorrow, to remember that we are here to serve. To those who are members of the American Lutheran Church we would offer the reminder that they are in effect stockholders in this business.

This year's staff owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. A. F. Droste of the Waverly Publishing Company for his assistance and cooperation in the production of this FORTRESS. Cover was done by Craftco of Chicago, Illinois; engraving by the Waterloo Engraving Co.; and binding by the Hawkeye Bindery of Des Moines. Class pictures and most of the organization group pictures were done by Troy Studio of Eldora. A special word of thanks goes to Miss Helen Wright of the art department for her cooperation in the work of preparing the division pages.

Complete list of the 1951 FORTRESS staff is as follows: Sigrid Becker, Clare Biegler, Elmer Boie, Alfred Braunschweig, Vineta Carlin, Herman Diers, Evelyn Dreier, Marilyn Dreier, Melvin Gleiter, Donald Groskreutz, John Hiltner, Eimo Hinrichs, William Johnson, Roselyn Kiesele, Robert Koehler, Louie Larsen, Fred Moberg, Leona Mortensen, Rolf Olson, Ralph Oltrogge, Ruth Ottersberg, Kenneth Pohlmann, Marvin Rothfusz, Paul Schubert, Glenn Schultz, Regina Welsch, Edward Winter, Paul Darnauer, Miss Margaret Wolff, adviser.
